RMV Performance Possibility Plan (PPP) for Ian Berry
Period 1/1/19 to 31/3/19

Organisation's Major Objective This Year

Continue with 90% of work being within 90 minutes of home and only doing what I love in the service of people who love what I do.

My Major Objective This Year

Meet 'smallest viable audience' goal of working with no more than 12 private clients and majority of event participants coming from minimum number of workplaces.

Key personal objectives this quarter

1) Tick off scheduled goals on bucket list. 2) Visit with children and grandchildren at least once.

Strategy in a sentence and gift/s being enhanced

Rolls-royce relationships lead to rolls-royce clients.
Candid, convivial and compassionate communication and conversation and pitching.

The one-thing I'm making remarkable this quarter

Obtaining shared view with prospects and clients of my value to them of working together.

Why this is meaningful to me

Being a role model, being valued for my contribution, and leaving a legacy while I'm alive in ways that help my clients to be the best version of themselves in their own best ways bring me great joy and satisfaction.

How my improvements are valuable to other people

Making the complex simple; increasing value creation and delivery; better business results at less human and business cost.

The key quantum leaps I'm taking and aggregating

1. Increasing my levels of consciousness and being fully present in each moment.
2. Staying in touch with top 25 people monthly and key 150 people quarterly by adding value as perceived by them.
3. Beginning to get all my writings published on Amazon by the end of this year.
